Derek Snider knows it takes consistent dedication if one is to achieve his goals. Graduating at the top of his class from West Virginia University (WVU) with a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration, Derek applies the same devotion and business acumen towards the financial and insurance strategy work he does with his clients today. In addition to his insurance and financial strategy work, Derek also holds the Chartered Federal Employee Benefits Consultant (ChFEBC) designation and along with his business partners provide financial education and guidance to federal employees at nearly 80 government agencies around the country.

Upon his graduation from WVU in 2006, Derek started his career in the financial industry at American General in their loans and insurance area and in less than a year was promoted to department manager. Despite his success there, only a short time later he met George Snook and the management of uFinancial and decided to join the firm in 2007 where he has remained since. When asked what drives him to this work his answer is simple – “My goal is to make sure each and every client is adequately prepared for the retirement they desire and anything else life can throw at them along the way.”

(Over)

Derek grew up in the city of Buckhannon in north-central West Virginia. As a youth he excelled in athletics and focused on basketball, track, and soccer while attending high school. While athletics demanded a lot of his time to train and compete, Derek also made it a priority to be a part of student government as treasurer and volunteered his time at the local humane society center. After graduation from high school he left to attend WVU and in addition to graduating Summa Cum Laude, was part of numerous local charities and led an effort to help clean up the school's grounds. Today, Derek lives in Harrisburg, PA, with his wife, Melinda, and when a free moment arises you can still bet on finding him on the athletic fields or enjoying the outdoors with his dog, Toby.

Helping people build financial peace of mind.
